GIMME SOME LOVIN' – The Blues Brothers are Back

The Revival-Show – Live in Concert!

The Blues Brothers are back! Dressed in black suits, black pork pie hats, narrow black ties and, of course, black sunglasses...the Blues Brothers cut iconic figures not only in the world of music, but as cultural icons the world over. Playing the best of Rhythm & Blues and the deepest soul, the Blues Brothers created a unique energy that defied anyone to sit still. Finally after 30 years, there's a tribute show that brings the music of this legendary band back to life.

“Jake” and “Elwood”, on a mission from God, once again bring their electric performance and incomparable dance stylings to the stage.

The orphanage, where the brothers were raised by nuns, has lost the support of the church and will be sold, unless $5000 in property taxes can be paid. The former bad boys offer to raise the money. Not necessarily possessing a wide range of abilities outside of being blessed with musical talent and a distinct style, the brothers turn to their only legal option putting the band back together for a live concert.

Dave Moskin embodies “Jake”, and overwhelms with his charismatic voice and acrobatic dancing. Andy Freund plays “Elwood” with cool charm and distinct moves, and shines with his blues harp virtuosity, ever at the ready inside the briefcase he carries handcuffed to his wrist. Dany Reiter is “Baby Blue”, while also playing various other roles, and adding her amazingly soulful vocals to the proceedings.

The show is an entertaining mix of short scenes, inspired by the 1980 cult film, concise narratives touching on the history and mythological beginnings of the Blues Brothers and above all, the legendary songs, including such hits as “Gimme Some Lovin’”, “Soulman”, “Everybody Needs Somebody”, “Sweet Home Chicago”, “Minnie the Moocher”, “Jailhouse Rock” and many more.

Eight extraordinary musicians, under the direction of Gerald Gratzner, faithfully recreate the original arrangements for an incomparable musical experience.

With it’s built in cult factor and it’s complete assault of the senses, this show is guaranteed to blow audiences away.

Let’s rock with The Blues Brothers, because they are back...now!
